

Ashton R. Thompson, Hoksina Waste (Good Boy) was the beloved son of Crystal L. McKay and Vance James Thompson Sr. He was born in Devils Lake, ND, on October 7, 1997. He began his journey to the Spirit World on Sunday, October 28, 2018 due to a car accident.

Ashton attended Four Winds Community School in Fort Totten, ND. Throughout his years, he was active in basketball and had joined in grade 5, in which he was part of the Wood Lake traveling team up until 9th grade and continued high school basketball. In 2016, Ashton and his team, the Four Winds Indians, became State Champions. He then graduated from Four Winds High School, class of 2017 in Fort Totten, ND. Growing up Ashton was a very simple guy, he loved playing basketball and enjoyed X Box and PS 4 gaming. He also had a part time job at Tokio General Store. He loved spending time with his baby boy, Carter (his pride and joy). Ashton will be missed by many for his unique personality, his loving kind heart and his bright smile.

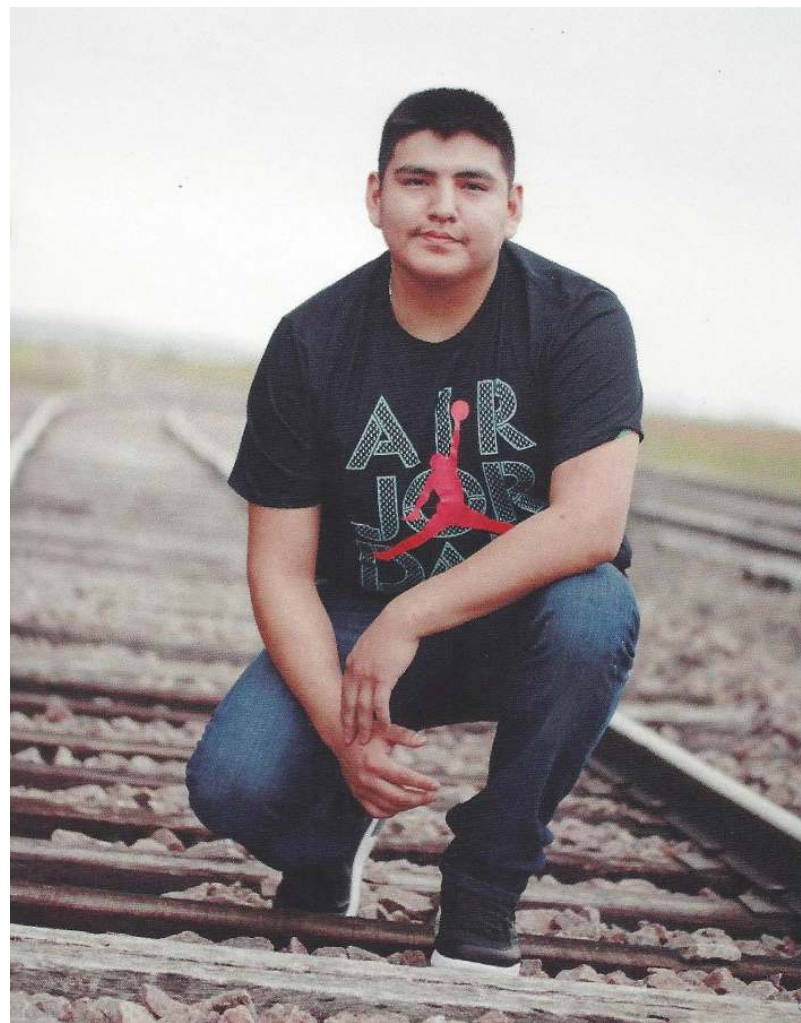

He is preceded in death by his grandfather, Richard McKay and Philip McKay Sr., and other relatives. Ashton will be laid to rest below his grandfather at the Saint Jerome Cemetery in Crowhill, ND.

Ashton is survived by his parents, Crystal L. McKay and Vance J. Thompson Sr.; son, Carter Delwayne-Richard Thompson; grandmothers, Millie McKay, Violet Smith, Patty Christianson and Stella Cavanaugh; great grandfather, Solomon F. Sherman; four brothers, Walter, Vance Jr., Jonathan and Sage Thompson; two sisters, Neela James and Mae Thompson; aunts, Lisa Burdick, Ashley McKay, Gina Wachsmuth; uncle, Jaime Burdick Sr.; friend, Dennis Smith; special friend, Johnna Good Iron; nieces, Athena Acevedo and Ameriah Grady-Burdick.

Any drum group is invited.

In Loving Memory of

Ashton R. Thompson

October 7, 1997 – October 28, 2018

Always There

When you remember me,
Please do not weep.
My body may not be there,
It has chosen to sleep.
I'm not that far away,
My soul lives on.
Looking down,
Watching over you and everyone.
And when you feel sad
And life seems so blue,
Just remember
That my spirit has
Its arms around you.
And on those special days,
Times that you wish I could see,
That cool breeze
Flowing past you...
Well, that will be me.
So don't be sad,
Have no fear.
God has taken me under his wing,
But I'll always be near.
I still watch you
Every minute, every day.
My love and soul are with you,
And that's where they will stay.
